To whom it may concern;

In relation to an e-mail received recently re land allocation I would like to comment on point 3 of this e-mail that the planned proposal to build on the site off Haggs Lane is not in keeping with the rest of Cartmel Village. For this reason it would be more acceptable to build smaller developments on more sites. I believe that building 67 houses behind the Quaker Meeting House will cause many problems. The issue of access is a dangerous one and there are already many 'near misses' on Haggs Lane which will certainly increase and the increased volume of traffic may cause actual accidents.

As a resident of Haggs Lane I would also like to comment that there is a major issue with flooding in this area and our garden which is situated near the proposed site is frequently flooded.

Regards,

Mrs V. Whitfield
