Your comments

Finally, I would want to raise concerns about 2 sites in Arnside.

Site A2 is a totally inappropriate location on the coastline.

A97 will have been subject to conditions when quarrying ceased. These need to be checked. Access across the railway is an issue. The site is currently peaceful, and should remain so. Housing, or a caravan site, would impact on the wildlife site it has become (cliff nesting birds), and impinge on the neighbouring properties of Eaves Wood and Silverdale Moss. The size of the site would constitute a "major development" in the centre of a tranquil area in the centre of the AONB.
